From the moment you fire one up, the 2018 WRX all but begs you to find a curvy stretch of asphalt. Its rigid, strong chassis gives you the kind of controllability you need to get the most of every bit of ferocious grip coming from the exceptionally balanced Subaru Symmetrical Full-Time AWD system. The suspension makes it all possible, with stiff anti-roll bars, performance-tuned shock dampening and spring-rates, and available inverted front struts paired with 18-inch alloy wheels.
